I've been hearing impaired for 14 years. It happened suddenly on Sunday January 17 of 1992. My Neurologist said it was an attack of Multiple Sclerosis on the hearing centers of my brain. Therefore I have brain damage. I love my brain damage! When people think I'm crazy, that just gives me more leeway for behavior.

I am Wes Allen. The number of years I have passed through is 51. I am content, and well satisfied with life. As a result of that I am fully retired. My home is paid for. I have no bills except utilities and insurance. And I have a $ [REDACTED] investment for the future that has already grown to $ [REDACTED] in two year's time.

I live in Keller, Texas; but as you can see my mailing address is Roanoke. Nothing has ever been normal in my life, Praise God! I live in a wonderful, peaceful place that is much like country living. I love to share all that I have with deserving people.

Though I am retired, I am putting the second half of my life together. It will be the biggest half. Remember how we divided up the cookie when we were kids? I always kept the biggest half for me. And that's what my life will turn out to be. I gave the smallest half to my company, building furniture for 27 years. The biggest half will be doing fun and worthwhile things like writing to you.

I have done many writings over the last 17 years. Most of them were done out of necessity, to boost myself over a hurdle that loomed above my head. Now I share them with others to help them over their hurdles. I am publishing most of them as e-Books and placing them for sale in the <http://www.InternationalEbookLibrary.com>, which is an e-Book library I built for you and for me.

I have been given so many talents; I think I'm more than a ten-talent man. There are many things I like to do, and I don't want to leave anything out. They are the things that make my life enjoyable beyond comparison. I live a stress-free life and I have no fear of what the future will bring. My Heavenly Father holds the future in His hands. He is directing me and leading me to what my life will be in the months and years to come. Every waking moment of my time is spent doing the work that is set before me. And everything is fun; I have trouble calling it work.

Because there are so many things I like to do, I have built 5 websites to put them into practice. If it all works out, I will be so busy I'll have to hire people to carry out the little necessary tasks for me; but that's the plan.

The first website I built is <http://www.TheEarsofYourHeart.com>, this hearing loss support site. I knew I would need you, and you would need my help too. And this site will eventually bring all hearing-challenged people together to help each other.

The second site is the <http://www.InternationalEbookLibrary.com>. I built it because I will need a public bookcase in which to display all my e-Books so that many people can be helped by the struggles I've been through. You might say I pioneered the way for all my friends. I love to be a blessing to people's lives. And I made a way for you to put together e-Books too because I wanted you to share your life with me. So I give step-by-step instructions and the e-Book compiler for your benefit.

The third site is <http://www.ChildrensEbookLibrary.com>. I built that because I have a 13-year old niece who is already a fabulous writer. She has to write on a child's level because she is a child. Your children will need electronic-books to read, and many others will be able to use a place to share their children's stories. Our kids need a boost in life too. Many things we write will benefit them.

The fourth site is <http://www.JoyfulHeartAdvertising.com>, my creative business card site. With all these businesses I had to make so many cards I thought I'd share that with the world too. I will design a card just the way you want it, and put something on the back that will make it travel from hand to hand all across the nation.

The fifth site is for something I have enjoyed doing for the last ten years. I memorize scripture and historical speeches and documents and do dramatic presentations in costume. And I teach Memory Techniques. I call it: <http://www.ArtisticWordCreations.com> because all the documents I memorize are the artistic word-creations that were put together by the greatest men of all time. For ten years I have been speaking memorized presentations; but for 27 years I have been using and teaching Memory Techniques. I can do things with memory others can only dream of doing; but I can show you how you can do it too. I "aced" everything in college and graduated with high honors using Memory Techniques. Professors used to excuse me from taking tests and final exams at times saying, "You'll just get another A and an F wouldn't hurt your grade point average."

There are other things I want to do also; but I would have to have two or three lifetimes to get it all in. I want to relax a little too in my retirement, and maybe find a Darling Companion with whom to share it all. But that's enough about me! I don't want to get you to thinking that I'm anybody; then I might be back in the rat race.
